It will be up to the Market Master to determine if and when there are too many of one type of seller, and the Market Master may recommend denial of an application, in his or her discretion. The Market Committee may adopt, or not adopt, this recommendation.
    - 2. Each seller is required to pay a $50.00 booth fee. This fee is good for the entire season, regardless of how few, or how many, market days the seller attends.
    - 3. All sellers must be residents of Alger County, Marquette County, Luce County, Schoolcraft County, or Delta County. Sellers from other Upper Peninsula counties may apply for entry, and will be considered by the Market Committee on a case by case basis.

Any exceptions to this rule must be approved by the Market Committee.
    - 6. No wholesalers are permitted to sell at the Munising Farmer's Market.
    - 7. It is permissible for a seller to have a friend, family member, employee, or other designee tend seller's booth.

8. Products shall be sold at market price. Vindictive pricing, or pricing in bad faith, is not allowed. As a guide, produce and products sold at the market should be priced above the current wholesale price, in the area.
9. All sellers must provide information to consumers regarding how their product was grown and produced by posting this information, in plain site, in legible form, at their booth. This information must include labeling the origin of their products with both the farm name and farm location. This applies to all products, regardless of where the products were grown, raised, or gathered. Examples of proper posting are: Sandpiper Farm, Rumely, Michigan, Chemical Free; June Bug Farm, Skandia, Michigan, Conventionally Grown.
10. Sellers are responsible for compliance with any City, County, State and Federal Rules, Laws, or Regulations that pertain to their particular product or products, and must provide the Market Master with a photocopy of any compliance documents, such as licenses, registered processes, proof of inspection, permits, etc. required by any such agency for seller to legally market seller's products.
11. Seller's booth location is at the discretion of the Market Master and may be assigned, or reassigned, to improve customer flow through the market, from time to time.
12. Any dispute or failure to follow these market policies shall be brought to the attention of the Market Master. The procedure for resolving disputes and policy violations is as follows:
  1. Disputes among vendors:
    - a. A complaint is submitted to the Market Master, in writing;
    - b. A $10.00 "complaint fee" is required, refundable if the violation is approved and results in discipline of the other party;
    - c. If the decision of the Market Master is challenged, the complaint may be appealed to the Market Committee for a final decision.
  2. Policy Violation:
    - a. First offense: Verbal warning from the Market Master;
    - b. Second offense: Written warning with penalty of missing the next market day required; and
    - c. Third offense: Dismissal from market for a remainder of season, with any and all fees paid forfeited.

Any Market Committee member directly involved in a dispute amongst vendors will not be included in hearing any appeal.
13. General Procedures.
  - a. In order to promote public safety at the Munising Farmer's Market, all sellers must fully set up their booth on the day of the daily market, and be ready to sell, prior to the commencement of the daily market;
